GL 1/0 Getriebefließfett (GL 1/0 Transmission Flow Grease)

DESCRIPTION

GL 1/0 Transmission Flow Grease is a strongly adherent, high-performance grease for lubricating bearings and closed and open drives. Due to the composition of GL 1/0, there is no separation of base oil or thickener due to delivery through long lubrication pipes, high pressure differences or steep shear gradients. Special additives allow high surface loading on slow-running transmissions.

PROPERTIES

- extremely adherent
- high EP properties
- water resistant
- resistant to commercially available water-based caustics
- compatible with all commercially available sealing materials
- stable to oxidation even during long-term use
- reliable corrosion protection
- can be delivered by centralised lubrication systems
- does not contain solid lubricants

Complies with the certification for grease in accordance with DIN 51502 KP0K-30
