UCON Water Insoluble

UCON™ water insoluble base stocks are sold as fluids and lubricants alone or are bought by formulators or marketers as a base to add their own additives for creating their own lubricant. Water insoluble base stocks are preferred when the lubricant may be combined with other natural oils, organic solvents, plastizers, resins, or gums. With several water insoluble base stocks in our product line, choosing the right fluid can be a challenge. The table below lists the typical viscosity[†] to help you select which base stock will meet your needs.
